

Privacy statement

Prepared by Malcolm Elsmore

April 2008

I. Privacy statement

Elsmore Creative Marketing is committed to protecting the privacy of users of this website.

This statement sets out our policy regarding the collection and use of personally identifiable information, such as name, e-mail and postal address, or other personal details, via the website.

Please read this policy to understand how your personal information is collected and used.

We will process any personal data you provide in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998.

This statement sets out our current policy which may be subject to change.

Information collected:

General visitor information, such as IP (Internet Protocol) address, and statistics such as which pages are accessed and when (which is not linked to personally identifiable information).

Currently this information is provided to us via our ISP (Internet Service Provider).

Personal information such as name, e-mail and/or postal address.

Such information is collected only when you contact us using any of the e-mail links to contacts provided on the site, or an information request form. The nature of information requests and any survey information volunteered may also be collected via this (or other forms) in the future.

Disclosure of information to third parties

Elsmore Creative Marketing will not disclose any of your personally identifiable information to any party outside the company, except in one of the following circumstances:

When we have your permission to do so, or when it is required by law.

Disclaimer

We cannot guarantee that data transmission over the Internet is 100% secure. Elsmore Creative Marketing is committed to protecting the privacy of your information, but we cannot guarantee the security of any information you transmit to us, therefore you do so at your own risk.

Data Protection Act 1998